OPENING INTRODUCTION

The Take That Was Never Meant to Stay.

It starts the way most things do that never get released — a rehearsal, a false start, a quiet laugh caught by the mic. A voice stumbles over the first line, stops, apologizes, and begins again. Nobody was supposed to hear that moment. But the take that followed carried something the polished versions never could.

This Is Trance, Hear the Call keeps that imperfection at its center — not a highlight reel of a finished record, but the exact second a private rehearsal turned into a call meant for the floor.

“Okay. Now for real.”

THE STORY BEHIND THE SONG

One Take. Three Rooms.

This Is Trance, Hear the Call began as a single idea from DJ Andy'K — the sound of trance refusing to be declared dead, built around one insistent hook: "This is trance, hear the call."

Aria Noir's voice gave the idea its rehearsal-room honesty — low, direct, unpolished by design. Rather than smoothing over the first take, DJ Andy'K built an entire version around keeping it exactly as it happened: one mic, one grand piano, one imperfect beginning.

The single expands through three interpretations. The Official Trance Version carries the full call to the floor. The Live Rehearsal Room Version exposes the fragile, unedited moment underneath it. The Techno Meets Trance Version pushes the same call deeper underground.

Three versions. One rehearsal. One call that refused to stay private.

THREE VERSIONS

Tracklist

01. This Is Trance, Hear the Call (Official Trance Version)

TECHNO MEETS TRANCE · PROGRESSIVE CROSSOVER · PEAK-TIME

The full call to the floor: driving 4/4 kick, hypnotic arpeggios, tribal percussion and congas beneath big-room, festival energy.

02. This Is Trance, Hear the Call (Live Rehearsal Room Version)

DRY GRAND PIANO · 112 BPM

Just piano and voice, recorded live in the room — mic bleed, natural imperfection, one brief laugh, a spoken “sorry” before the real take begins.

03. This Is Trance, Hear the Call (Techno Meets Trance Version)

CIRCUIT-TRIBAL GROOVE · PEAK-TIME

The same call, pushed further underground — deeper tribal percussion, driving techno low-end, a heavier and more hypnotic build.

THE VOICES

Two Voices, One Take.

DJ ANDY'K

PRODUCER · CENTRAL VOICE

ARIA NOIR

FEATURED VOCALIST · BELGIUM

Aria Noir — a voice that doesn't hide the take.

Belgian vocalist Aria Noir returns for her second collaboration with DJ Andy'K, bringing a low, conversational alto to This Is Trance, Hear the Call — close, direct, and deliberately unpolished. Rather than performing a finished vocal, she leaves the rehearsal-room honesty intact: the hesitation, the laugh, the restart.

At 32, Aria is a trance and techno vocalist through and through — this is exactly where she belongs, and it shows in every take.

“...sorry — okay. Now for real.”

Intro — Spoken, Live Rehearsal Take

(soft grand piano, minor-key arpeggio, live room mic)

(quiet natural laugh)

"...sorry —"

(brief pause)

"Okay. Now for real."

Verse 1

People Says, that Trance just Die

I made the music, let them try

We don't sleep, we feel it all

One more night,

I can't believe it

Do you feel it?

Chorus

This is trance, Hear the Call

Don't let go, and just try

Don't let go, we survive

Post-Chorus / Hook

Signal green, power on

Healing fast, move on

Verse 2

People Says that, Trance just Die
I made the Beats, Make them Cry
We don't sleep, we feel it all
One more night,
I can't believe it
Do you feel it?

Chorus

This is trance, Hear the Call
Don't let go, and just try
Don't let go, we survive

Post-Chorus / Hook

Signal green, power on
Healing fast, move on

Pre-Build / Bridge

We came for the pressure
We came for the sound
We came for the love
for love to be found

We came for the moment
that nobody planned
We came for the feeling
we still understand

LYRICS — 3/3

This Is Trance, Hear the Call

Hook

One beat, one room
one pulse, one night
If trance ever died
we brought it back to life

Build

Keep it climbing, keep it sharp
hands up higher, kick the dark
Hold the tension, hold the line
one more layer, and we're fine
No surrender, no slow-down
feel that bassline, shake the ground

Final Chorus / Drop

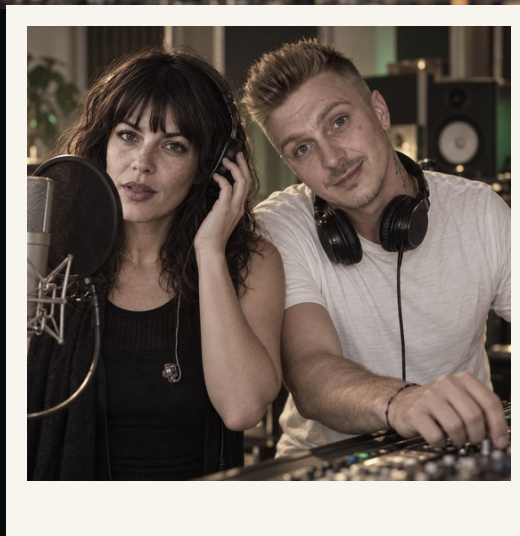

We survive, we survive
trance is running through the night
We survive, we survive
turn it up and let it rise

Outro

(instrumental fade, room tone / tribal tail)
